Who we are

The Canadian Reiki Association: We provide our members with a national voice and encourage high educational standards. Through our Code of Ethics, we promote ethical practices and teaching. We assist the public with referrals to CRA Registered Practitioners and Teachers and are committed to enlightening and educating our communities about Reiki.

What we stand for

First and foremost, we believe in equality. In becoming members of the Canadian Reiki Association, our Practitioners and Teachers express their support for the idea that all styles of Reiki are equally valid and that no one style of Reiki is better or more authentic than another. While CRA members support holistic healing, we understand that Reiki is not superior to allopathic or other complementary interventions, but rather is an additional method of addressing the issue. We believe in the therapeutic effectiveness of Reiki, both as a freestanding therapy and/or in conjunction with other modalities.

What is Reiki?

Reiki (pronounced Ray-Key) is an energy-based healing modality. In use since the early 1900s, it is a discipline with ties to traditional Japanese and Chinese medical theory. A non-invasive technique, Reiki is used on its own merits as an effective way of assisting with a variety of ailments. It is particularly good for inducing relaxation, reducing pain and stress, increasing vitality, assisting the body's natural healing abilities, and generally giving one a sense of balance. Reiki can also be used in conjunction with other therapies (medical, psychological, and body-work, to name a few) to enhance the benefits and results that these modalities provide.

Treatments do not involve pressure, manipulation or massage. Reiki practitioners rest their hands gently on or above specific areas of one's clothed body, and energy is projected directly into the energy field and drawn into the physical being by the client. This energy is self-dispersing; it flows naturally into deficient areas and also assists your body in re-balancing its own energy.

What we offer the public

On request, the CRA will provide you with the names of several of our Registered Practitioners and Teachers in your area. Our members have agreed to abide by our Code of Ethics and educational standards, so you can be confident that you will be dealt with fairly and ethically. You have the added security of knowing that there is an association to which you can bring your concerns or questions.

Should you wish, the CRA may be able to provide you with speakers who can address the topic of Reiki at your continuing education lectures, workshops, or conferences.

Credentialing

As recognized by Health Canada, complementary healing modalities are self-regulated. All CRA teachers give students a certificate upon completion of each level. These certificates must be presented to the CRA upon registering as a member of the organization.

Fees for services

The individual Practitioner sets all fees. The CRA does not wish to interfere in the marketing efforts of its members.

What we offer our members

The CRA provides Reiki Practitioners and Teachers with a common voice, so that we may be clearly heard when appropriate. Newsletters help keep you up to date on social, legal, political and other issues from coast to coast.

In many areas of the country, holistic practitioners of all modalities need to demonstrate 'membership in good standing' in a holistic association in order to be granted a municipal business licence. All members receive a card indicating their affiliation with the Canadian Reiki Association. Registered Practitioners and Teachers receive a certificate attesting to their status and are permitted to use the designation RP-CRA or RT-CRA after their names. They are entitled to have their names listed in the CRA Directory, if they wish. All Registered members benefit from the CRA referral network. Potential students and clients are directed to them.

All who are interested can purchase our Guided

Chakra Meditation CD's, CRA Logo Pins, Student certificates, "What is Reiki Brochure" and the Packages: "Reiki in the Work Place Setting" and "Reiki in a Volunteer Setting" at our on-line store or ask for an order form. The AGM (Annual General Meeting) is open to all members of the CRA and offers a full day of interesting and interactive workshops after a brief business meeting and election of officers.
